Where ongoing "accidental damage" is deemed by Janam to be excessive, systemic or the result of consistent product mishandling, a customer may be subject to a service audit. During this service audit, Janam reserves the right to refuse service coverage should such damage continue unabated. Customer will incur a repair charge at prevailing rates for products deemed by Janam to have been damaged through improper handling, reckless use, carelessness or neglect.

Any customer requesting excessive repair will be subject to review of its usage profile to determine if there is a systemic issue or abuse leading to higher than expected failures. Where applicable, Janam will help customer implement proper usage processes. If the customer is still found to be outside of the reasonable norm for this service, customer may be subjected to a non-renewal and/or cancellation of the service agreement. A settlement offer may be made on the product's current market value (less cost of repairs previously performed under contract) at Janam's discretion. If a refund is made, coverage under the contract becomes null and void and product(s) can no longer be placed under contract at any future date.

Coverage under Janam Warranty and Basic Extended Warranty service plans shall not include products affected by the circumstances listed below:

- Damage caused by failure to follow the proper maintenance, service, and cleaning schedule; improper use or installation; operation under conditions beyond the specified operating parameters; excessive voltage or current supplied to or drawn from the product interface connections; static electricity or electro-static discharge.

- Damage or malfunctioning caused by non-restoring action such as firmware or software upgrades, software or hardware reconfigurations, etc.

If products sent to Janam have been affected by any of the circumstances listed above, the customer will incur additional charges for the necessary repairs at the prevailing rates.

Janam reserves the right to deny service contract coverage if customer fails to present a valid invoice with serial number information and date of sale as proof of purchase.

Janam offers service and support for discontinued Janam-manufactured products for five years after the date of discontinuation. This is subject to the following restrictions:

- Service and support for discontinued products is dependent on availability of parts, technology and/or processes needed in order to provide service and support of a product. Should these resources become obsolete, discontinued or unavailable, Janam may adjust this policy.
- When a product is discontinued, Premium and Premium Plus Plans are not available for sale or renewal.

Janam is not obligated to provide services for any product if customer fails to comply with the obligations contained in this service policy.
